Ve can invent and create, but can we llso be faithful to our own principles beliefs, values and boundaries while doing so? The Newtonian Matrix invites us to question ourselves and our creations, even as we strive forward to mprove both our own lives and others'.

You've got yourself together, but can you accept yourself fully? The third matrix of the psyche is very challenging for most people due to the immense amount of projection still extant with regard to it, but learning how to be and accept yourself is worth it!
